Additional Information

Meeting the Needs of Pell-Eligible Students

Gonzaga is working hard to meet the financial need of all Pell-eligible students in the state of Washington.

Test Optional for Fall 2021 Applicants

Gonzaga University will suspend the admission requirement of a SAT or ACT score for students applying for college admission for fall 2021.

Gonzaga University will continue to review applications holistically, considering the context of a student's application, and carefully review each applicant's curriculum, grades, writing, activities and involvement (including part-time work), and character.

Gonzaga also recognizes that high schools may choose to use a "Pass/Fail" grading option, and the University notes that will not disadvantage students in the admission process.

Application Deadline

Last year, Gonzaga changed our application deadline for fall semester. The deadline for first-year students is December 1, 2020. We will accept late applications until Feb. 1, 2021.

Students will be notified of their admission by March 1, 2021. They will still be automatically considered for a merit-based scholarship at the time of admission.

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) opens October 1, and our priority deadline is now December 1, 2020. We ask that all students submit applications to Gonzaga-specific scholarships (available at gonzaga.edu/scholarships) by January 1, 2021. The January 1 deadline also applies to students applying to the Honors Program (gonzaga.edu/honors).

New Integrated Science and Engineering Facility Set to Open Fall 2021

Our Integrated Science and Engineering Facility is a new project currently underway that aims to provide students of all majors with a space that fosters innovative learning. This new facility will boast a sizable 83,000 square feet and more than 15 different types of labs for collaborative undergraduate research. This new innovative facility is intended to open in the Fall of 2021.
